The US, UK, Canada, and Australia have long been the most sought-after study destinations, but 2026 has brought a wave of tighter regulations that every counselor needs to understand. From Canada's new provincial attestation requirements to the UK's updated graduate route restrictions, higher financial thresholds, and stricter "Genuine Student" tests, the landscape is shifting fast. This session is a technical deep dive into what's changed and what it means for your students' applications. Our specialists will walk you through the latest policy updates across all four markets, share practical tips on documentation and financial vetting, and highlight the common pitfalls that are leading to high-stakes rejections. Whether you're a seasoned counselor or newer to these markets, you'll walk away with a clear, up-to-date playbook for guiding students through some of the most demanding visa processes in the world.

As traditional markets raise their barriers, a new generation of destinations is rolling out the welcome mat. Germany, Ireland, France, and New Zealand are offering streamlined visa pathways designed to attract global talent, and smart counselors are paying attention. This session unpacks the visa architecture of these emerging hotspots — from Germany's tuition-free "Administrative Fee" visa structure to Ireland and France's post-study work rights and New Zealand's specialized "Green List" pathways. You'll learn the specific documentation nuances, eligibility criteria, and strategic advantages each market offers. If you're looking to diversify your portfolio and give students access to high-growth, student-friendly regions, this is your roadmap.

8. Decoding the Ever-Expanding Cast: Understanding the Characters Reshaping Education

Date: 29th May

Time: 18:00 IST

<https://www.theoutreachcollective.in/event-details/decoding-the-ever-expanding-cast-understanding-the-characters-reshaping-education>

The education world has always had its familiar protagonists- admissions officers, school counselors, university recruiters. But the cast has grown dramatically, and many of the characters now shaping how students discover, choose, and experience education are newer to the stage and worth getting to know.

Independent Educational Consultants, international agents, outreach professionals, experiential learning providers, co-curricular platforms, professionals are entering the ecosystem from every direction, each bringing distinct expertise and value. Some are moving the needle in ways institutions haven't fully recognized. Others occupy spaces that didn't exist five years ago. Many are doing meaningful work that deserves greater visibility and understanding.

This session maps the full ecosystem- the well-known and the underappreciated, the established and the emerging- to build a clearer picture of who is contributing what to student outcomes and institutional strategy. We'll explore where roles overlap, where they complement each other, and why understanding this ever-expanding cast is essential for building the right relationships in today's landscape.

If you've ever encountered a new role and wanted to understand where it fits in the bigger picture, this session is for you.

9. Dual Enrollment as a Pathway: Academic, Strategic, and Global Perspectives for Counsellors

Time: 18:00 IST

<https://www.theoutreachcollective.in/event-details/dual-enrollment-as-a-pathway-academic-strategic-and-global-perspectives-for-counsellors>

This session will take counsellors and educators through a clear, practical understanding of dual enrollment — how high school students can earn university-level credits and what that means for academic planning, admissions, and long-term student success.

It will cover:

- How dual enrollment compares to AP, IB, A Levels, and other advanced pathways
- Credit transferability and recognition across US and global universities
- Strategic and financial considerations that matter most to students and families
- Real-world case studies from multiple dual enrollment models
- Best practices for integrating dual enrollment into student advising

10. Entrance Exams & Pathways in India — Part 1: Engineering & Medicine

Date: June 19, 2026

Time: 18:00 IST

Click here to Register:

With results from JEE Main, JEE Advanced, BITSAT, MHT CET, and NEET UG either declared or expected by mid-June, this is a critical window for counsellors supporting students through the next steps.

This session will cover the entrance exam ecosystem across two key pathways — Engineering & Technology and Medicine & Allied Health.

What the session will cover:

- Exam Structure & Competitiveness — What each exam tests, how competitive it is, and what distinguishes one from another.
- Timelines & Student Profiles — How exam schedules, counselling rounds, and seat allotment processes align with different student profiles.
- Right-Fit Guidance & Preparation — How to help students make informed choices based on their strengths, and practical insights on preparation strategy.

12. SAT vs ACT: Enabling Informed Student Choices

Date: June 16th

Time: 6 PM IST

<https://www.theoutreachcollective.in/event-details/sat-vs-act-enabling-informed-student-choices>

As testing pathways evolve, counsellors play a critical role in helping students navigate the SAT vs ACT decision with clarity and confidence.

This session offers a focused, counsellor-centric overview of both exams- covering structure, scoring, subject emphasis, and global acceptance. Going beyond basic comparisons, it will highlight key differences in test design, pacing, and skill demands to help counsellors better understand how each exam aligns with varied student profiles.

Experts will also share practical insights on preparation strategies, credible tools and resources, and common decision-making pitfalls. A central focus will be on identifying indicators like academic strengths, test-taking style, and student preferences, that can guide personalised recommendations.

Designed to be concise and application-oriented, this session will equip counsellors with clear frameworks to support more informed, student-specific testing choices.

13. Entrance Exams & Pathways in India — Part 2: Law & Management

With CLAT, AILET, CAT, and other key entrance exams scheduled between November and January, this session is timed to help counsellors prepare well ahead of the application and exam cycle.

This session will cover the entrance exam ecosystem across two key pathways — Law and Management.

What the session will cover:

- Exam Structure & Competitiveness — What each exam tests, the level of competition, and how the exams differ in format and focus.
- Timelines & Application Planning — Key dates for registration, preparation milestones, and how they align with different student profiles.
- Right-Fit Guidance & Preparation — How to guide students towards programmes suited to their aptitude, and practical insights on preparation strategy.

Marquee Learning & Networking Experiences:

1. In Focus: A Curated Showcase of TOC's Most Outstanding Service Partners

Dates: May 2026 onwards, last Thursday of each month

Time: 18:00 IST

Applications to participate Open April 12th

Registrations to attend open May 2026

In Focus is a members-only monthly platform where select TOC service provider companies are invited to present their work to the community's most engaged and influential audience — counsellors, school leaders, university representatives, and fellow service providers.

Each 45-minute virtual session, held on the last Thursday of every month at 6:00 PM IST, features two carefully selected companies who go beyond the standard pitch. Presenters share the what, why, and how of their work — including a live demonstration or interactive element — followed by a direct Q&A with the audience.

This is not an open stage. Companies are chosen through a review process that evaluates relevance, quality, and the ability to deliver something genuinely valuable to the TOC community. Being featured on In Focus is a recognition of outstanding work and a mark of standing within the ecosystem.

TOC supports every presenting company with pre-event promotion across email and WhatsApp, social media visibility, a dedicated prep call, post-session recaps, session recordings, and facilitated follow-up connections with interested members.

2. The Sakura Immersion Programme — Japan, June 2026 A TOC × Acumen Initiative

Tour Dates: 20th–26th June 2026

Japan is increasingly becoming a deliberate choice for undergraduate students — not a backup, but a priority. The real question: do counsellors have the first-hand knowledge to guide that decision effectively?

The Sakura Immersion Programme is designed to bridge that gap. Created in partnership between TOC and Acumen, this is a structured, on-ground Japan immersion experience open to all educators and counsellors.

What the Programme Offers

- Direct access to universities, research centres, and employers across Tokyo, Osaka, and Kyoto
- Clear insights into scholarships, admissions processes, visa pathways, and post-study work opportunities
- Networking with fellow counsellors, Japanese institutions, and industry stakeholders
- A comprehensive Counsellor Resource Kit with ready-to-use materials for student and parent conversations

Programme Details

- Duration: 5 nights / 6 days (including travel)
- Route: Tokyo → Osaka → Kyoto
- Includes university visits, corporate briefings, and cultural immersion

Payment Deadline: 30th April 2026

Capacity is strictly limited to ensure meaningful engagement and a deeper, more immersive experience.

Return with the on-ground insights needed to guide students toward Japan with confidence and authority.

3. The Residency: Annual Summer School for Lifelong Learners

Date: 12th-14th June

Venue: Universal AI University, Karjat

The Residency is a fully residential programme hosted at Universal AI University-India's first AI-first university; designed and delivered alongside Creya Learning and GradCircle. Over 2 days, a small cohort of curious, hands-on learners will step out of their usual roles and into the student seat.

You'll walk through AI-powered labs, build a working prototype from scratch, and take it through an MBA-style commercialisation journey — from value proposition to pitch. Every session is designed around doing, not watching. By the end, you won't just understand what innovation programmes look like on paper. You'll know what they feel like from the inside.

The programme is built for anyone who learns best by experience- whether you advise others on learning pathways, want to stay sharp on how education and technology are evolving, or are simply drawn to unfamiliar challenges. No technical background is required. What matters is curiosity, not credentials.

Accommodation, meals, and all programme materials are included. Spots are limited to keep the experience intimate and high-quality.

Joint certificate from TOC, Universal Ai University, Creya Learning, and GradCircle.

Three days. One campus. A learning experience you carry back into your practice.

4. The AI Toolkit: A Certificate Workshop for Real Tools. Real Skills. Real Impact

Workshop Leader: Akash Kadam, Universal AI University

Faculty: AI/ML/Data Science/Business Analytics

Academic Degree: B.E. (IT), PICT Pune & Doctoral Research (Ongoing), IIT Patna

Industry Experience: 5 Years

Academic Experience: 8 Years

Dates:

Cohort 1- April 25th-26th, 2026

Cohort 2: July 18th-19th, 2026

Timings for each day: 10:00 -15:00

The Outreach Collective (TOC) and Universal AI University are back with two new cohorts of The AI Toolkit — the 10-hour Intensive Online Certificate Workshop built for TOC members across roles and sectors.

After two successful cohorts last year, this edition returns with refreshed content and updated tools to keep pace with a landscape that evolves by the week. The program remains rooted in what made it work the first time: practical, hands-on training that cuts through the noise and helps professionals actually use AI in their everyday work.

Participants will learn to simplify routine tasks, streamline workflows, and integrate the latest AI tools into their professional routines — no matter their role, industry, or technical background.

Whether you're managing communications, running a business, counselling students, or coordinating outreach, this workshop equips you to work smarter and stay ahead.

5. The Soiree

Date: August 19th, 2026

Time: 7:30 PM Onwards

Registrations Open April 15th, 2026

On August 19th, we return to Lyla for an unforgettable Soirée, and if you were there last year, you already know this isn't just an evening out. It's the evening that stays with you.

Same venue. Same soul. But everything elevated because a gathering like this deserves to grow the way the people in it have.

School leaders. University representatives. Counsellors. Edtech founders. Voices shaping education across institutions and organizations globally, not from a stage, but over a conversation, a drink, a moment of recognition across the room. The kind of people you don't just want to meet. You want to know.

There's no agenda. No panels. No lanyards. Just a room full of people who are doing meaningful work in education, given the rare gift of an evening where none of it needs to be performed. Where the conversations happen the way they're supposed to- unhurried, unscripted, and real.

That's networking the TOC way. Not transactional. Not forced. Just the right people, in the right room, at the right time and the trust to let the evening do what it does best.

6. THE CONCLAVE A Residential Fellowship for Early-Stage TOC Founders

What It Is

A 72-hour, invite-only residential fellowship for TOC founders building ventures in their first five years — bootstrapped, non-funded, and revenue-focused. Limited to 10 fellows per cohort.

No keynotes. No panels. No social media coverage. The Conclave replaces performance with practice: closed-door sessions, peer-led strategy work, and direct access to senior industry leaders.

The Format

The fellowship runs across three days in a secluded, high-end residential setting. The programme includes:

- Master Circles: 90-minute closed-door sessions on defensive moats, scaling, and capital efficiency — led by industry leaders who stress-test, not lecture.
- War Rooms: Cohorts of three founders dismantle and rebuild each other's go-to-market strategies.
- The Midnight Office: Unstructured, off-the-record access to industry leaders for tactical advice.
- Curated Meals: High-table dining designed for one-on-one exchange.

Who Can Apply

Selection is by invitation and application. The committee evaluates:

- Founders Only
- Active TOC membership in good standing for 2026-27
- Business incorporated under 7 years ago
- Bootstrapped / non-funded / revenue-focused
- A demonstrated unique insight into their market

Confidentiality

Everything shared within the residency — particularly by industry leaders — stays within the residency. This is non-negotiable and fundamental to the fellowship's value.

Participation

A residency fee covers logistics and accommodation.

Applications open May 31st, 2026.
